

BBDCODS organised awareness campaign on world head and neck cancer day.

Babu Banarasi das College of Dental sciences BBDU, Lucknow organized awareness campaign in and out of the premises on 27th July being observed as world head and neck cancer day.

Dr. Neeta Mishra, Professor and HOD, Department of Oral Medicine & Radiology and Dr. Anuradha P. Professor and HOD, Department of Public Health Dentistry took the initiative for planning and execution of the event with full support from Dr.B. Rajkumar Principal of college.

The event comprised of a day long screening and counselling session for patient of oral Pre-malignancy and tobacco habit. Patient were informed about types of oral cancer in a poster gallery and many patients were distributed free medicines in the department.

Patient awareness and interactive session was also conducted through a group talk by the faculty of department of Oral Medicine & Radiology.

Mobile dental van of the college was stationed at patrakarpuram, gomtinagar and the public in general was shown some video clips regarding awareness of oral cancer and tobacco habit related diseases. Faculty of Department of Public Health interacted with queries of public at this station.

Around 170 patients were registered and distributed medicine in the college and 100 people interacted with queries one the mobile station.

Principal, Dr. B Rajkumar told that they are planning to hold such events regularly in and out of the college premises.

